

Conference Title:

'Football Medicine Strategies for Knee Injuries'

21st International Conference on Sports Rehabilitation and Traumatology

Date of Conference:

Weekend of 21st – 22nd April, 2012

Location:

Stamford Bridge Stadium, Chelsea, LONDON

Conference Information:

The Isokinetic FIFA Medical Centre of Excellence celebrates its 21st International Conference on Sports Rehabilitation and Traumatology in 2012, once again focusing on Football Medicine, specifically 'Football Medicine Strategies for Knee Injuries'.

Hosted in collaboration with F-MARC (FIFA Medical Assessment and Research Centre) and The Football Association, the conference boasts over 90 leading speakers, ranging from academics to surgeons, physiotherapists to club physicians.

The conference has been designed based upon the common challenges presented to football players and their support teams and is a unique opportunity for the global Football Medicine community to congregate and share the most recent research for practical application at all levels of the game.

Call for Papers:

We invite the sports medicine community to submit poster and free oral communication presentations via our website.

Key Sessions:

We have organised over 16 sessions across 3 rooms, providing each delegate with an opportunity to attend sessions they find the most interesting and relevant for their disciplines. These include the Knee Support System, MCL, ACL, Meniscus, Extensor Mechanisms, Cartilage, Knee Injuries in Rugby, Physiotherapy for Knee Injuries, Biomechanics, Orthopaedics and many more.

Conference aimed at:

Club physicians, physiotherapists, academics in SEM, orthopaedic surgeons, sports therapists, fitness/rehabilitation coaches, sport scientists, aspirational students/trainees, coaches & GPs.
